

More about Kathy Engeling

Kathy Engeling was no stranger to dance. From a young age, she began her dance journey and continued her love for dance through her college years at SIUE. Even though she took a break from dance to raise her children, she started again later in life and danced until she could dance no more. She was passionate about dancers of all ages. And so, we are proud to offer children and adults a scholarship in her name to honor her love of dance and dancers.